Throughout the region and across the globe, businesses are tapping into the Charlotte Research Institute at UNC Charlotte. Our vast resources combine with interdisciplinary expertise to create a talent pipeline for Fortune 500 companies and local startups. In fact, each year Bank of America enlists a number of UNC Charlotte’s finest students to participate in its Applied Technology Internship program. To create a similar partnership that provides exceptional research and technology talent for your company, the Charlotte Research Institute is your gateway to industry-university collaboration. Discover more at cri.uncc.edu.